COURSE LENGTH: 1.0 DAYS

In this age of fast changing technology, email is the preferred and often most efficient form of business communication. Yet many organisations in New Zealand overlook the etiquette framework that should be in place when using this very important business communications tool.

The PD Training Email Etiquette training course provides you with the skills and techniques necessary for managing emails, creating and managing groups, writing professionally with effective email structures, creating signatures and templates and more. Learn how to draft emails that are clear and concise and won't be misinterpreted by co-workers.

This valuable training course is available now throughout New Zealand including Auckland, Wellington and Christchurch. Or have us customise a training solution that matches your specific organisational requirements.

EMAIL ETIQUETTE TRAINING COURSE OUTLINE

FOREWORD

A new international workplace survey has found that 83% of New Zealanders use email, Internet, or both while at work, and most are convinced it makes them more productive.

With this growing trend in modern business communication within New Zealand, the explosion of unnecessary and time-wasting emails was one of the biggest sources of complaint. Some 35% of workers said they received high levels of emails that were either time wasting or unnecessary. This evidently points to the volume of emails that are directed to people without a clear purpose.

In an increasingly knowledge-based economy, it is critical that information is widely accessible and able to be utilised effectively in the workplace. It is also vital that organisations develop policies to guide employees on the correct use of online communications. These should cover issues such as privacy, personal use, monitoring, downloading of content, access by third parties and illegal use of the Internet.
